To Whom It May Concern:

It is a distinct pleasure to recommend to you Sensible Business Consulting Group (SBCG). I have had the pleasure of working with Mr. Joseph Kimbrough and his talented colleagues since 2009.

Sensible Business Consulting Group provides a level of excellence that truly benefits our diverse customers. Those who participate in the SBCG trainings have increased their confidence which has led to employment opportunities. Many of our customers have never prepared a resume or have gone on an interview. SBCG provides resume writing workshops and interviewing techniques which prepares individuals to highlight the marketable skills that they have gained through real life experiences. SBCG also provides comprehensive computer training specifically using Microsoft Office Applications. I was very pleased with the professional instructors and the manner in which they communicated the topics so that our participants could easily understand and effectively practice.

I feel confident in recommending SBCG to any company or organization that wants to enhance the quality of their programs as well as provide their customers with an invaluable training experience. Feel free to call me directly at 517-643-5516 if you would like additional information.

Sincerely,

Tracie Lewis-Jennings, MRC
